

Application No. 09/776,355

structure, a nested pair of elongated members forming an internal elongated channel therein, one common end of said elongated members pivotably attached to said first endcap and another common end of said elongated members pivotably attached to said second endcap, wherein said extension arm has a cable pathway through said opening extending through said first endcap and said internal elongated channel within said forearm extension.

Please cancel claim 33 without disclaimer or prejudice.

RECEIVED

FEB 07 2002

GROUP 3600